REPORT NO. 18 OF THE KINGSTON ENVIRONMENTAL ADVISORY FORUM

Report No. 18

To the Mayor and Members of Council:

The Kingston Environmental Advisory Forum reports and recommends as follows:

December 14, 2009

1. Report to Council regarding Correspondence referred from Council to KEAF from 'SPLASH – Sustainable Practices Leave a Sustainable Heritage'

WHEREAS correspondence was directed to the Mayor and City Council dated January 30, 2009; and,

WHEREAS within the correspondence a request was made that the Kingston Environmental Advisory Forum (KEAF) review the calculations regarding emissions from the Poker Run; and,

WHEREAS correspondence from Guy Oram, 'Sustainable Practices Leave A Sustainable Heritage (SPLASH)' following up on a letter dated January 30, 2009, was noted June 2, 2009, by Council and was referred to KEAF; and,

WHEREAS a review was undertaken, and a report was written by KEAF member Ian Dubin, with some input from other members, which details the calculations, observations, and research that were done to check claims made in the aforementioned letter; and,

WHEREAS the SPLASH correspondence set out figures for total CO₂ produced by the Poker Run; and it also stated a figure for the total CO₂ produced by idling cars in Kingston as a point of comparison; and,

WHEREAS KEAF's findings (produced by Mr. Ian Dubin and reviewed by other members of KEAF) are that SPLASH overstates the amount of CO₂ produced by the Poker Run event in a typical year, and that it significantly understates the amount of CO₂ produced by cars idling in Kingston in a typical year; and,

WHEREAS KEAF's determined effort to consult with Poker Run organizers and boat owners produced only limited hard data on fuel consumption during the event; and consequently, the numbers offered in Mr. Dubin's report are an estimate and the methodology is explained there; and,

WHEREAS the following data is based on tail pipe emissions:

- The total amount of CO₂ produced by the annual Poker Run is in the range of 100 - 200 tonnes.
- The KEAF estimate of the CO₂ produced annually by idling cars and light duty vehicles in Kingston, assuming that the statements on the Natural Resources Canada website are right - that these vehicles idle for about 5 minutes a day on average, is about 6000 tonnes (roughly 30 to 60 times the product of the Poker Run).
- Other points of comparison offered in the attached report are that 1 round-trip flight, Toronto-Vancouver, for a Boeing 757 produces 122 tonnes of CO₂.
- Based on the above, the Poker Run emits an amount of CO₂ equivalent to purchasing something in the order of 400 - 500 one way individual passenger flights from Toronto to Vancouver.
- One hour of flying time for the Snowbirds produces 31 tonnes.
- 1 medium efficiency automobile running 15,000 km annually produces 5 tonnes.
- 1 stop-sign on a 4,000-vehicle-per-day road on an annual basis increases CO₂ production by 34 tonnes.
- Anaesthetic gases vented from Hotel Dieu Hospital per year are equivalent to 100 – 150 tons of CO₂,

REPORTS (CONTINUED)

REPORT NO. 18 OF THE KINGSTON ENVIRONMENTAL ADVISORY FORUM

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT the following conclusions are submitted in response to the referral of correspondence from 'Sustainable Practices Leave A Sustainable Heritage (SPLASH)' and be received by Council:

1. In 2009, the Poker Run event produced an environmental impact of 100-200 tons of emissions for a 3-hour event which can be anticipated for future events.
2. The carbon emissions from the event should be considered within the results of the City's baseline carbon study, if the methodology permits it.
3. Noise impacts, wake impacts and other postulated environmental impacts are minor and unlikely to exceed existing standards and criteria.
4. The Cataraqui Creek Conservation Authority should be consulted on the possibility of damage to sensitive ecologies from wake effects.
5. The City Engineering Department should be consulted on the possibility of damage to harbour structures from wake (chop) generated in the outer harbour during the start.
6. In seeking to achieve a balance of social, cultural, economic and environmental factors in line with Kingston's Sustainability goals Council may wish to consult with FOCUS Kingston, it being noted that for the purposes of such a balancing decision, it is the view of KEAF that the Poker Run has a negative environmental impact.
7. Among the economic implications of the Poker Run, if the Poker Run continues in the City of Kingston, attention should be given to the possibility of purchasing high quality, credible, preferably local, carbon offsets to ensure that emissions of an amount of CO₂ equal to or greater than the emissions produced from the event are reduced elsewhere. Attention should also be given to who should bear responsibility for covering the costs of such carbon offsets.
8. The Poker Run without carbon offsets is damaging to a culture of Environmental Sustainability.

(Note: The report of Ian Dubin, in consultation with other KEAF members, is being distributed separately from the agenda.)
