

Brownfields Update Feb. 7

In attendance: Mary Farrar, Rick Downes, Sonia Nobrega, Brian Kaye, Barbara Muirhead

We have decided to scale down our Brownfields gathering to a 2 hour morning session April 21, the day before Earth Day, at 10 am to 12 am, and have booked the Wilson Room at the Library.

Coffee, muffins, etc. and displays will be available from 9:30 on.

Paul MacLatchy has agreed to give a half hour presentation starting at 10, similar to the one he gave to KEAF. He has excellent slides and a powerpoint presentation.

Around 10:30 will be a group of panelists leading into a discussion. Rick Downes will moderate.

Each panelist will speak for 5 minutes, and then it will be open for questions from the floor.

Our list of panelists is tentatively as follows:

1. Brian Kaye (Ministry perspective). Confirmed.
2. Steve Rose, from Melrose (engineering/development perspective)(Brian will ask him)
3. Vivienne Paquin (Technical perspective) Confirmed.
4. Brian Osborne (historical perspective) Confirmed.
5. Joe Davis (Rick will ask him)

We will ask each of these people and others about possible materials to contribute to a display. The City of Kingston Brownfields office appears to have many visuals shown in the book The Story of Brownfields and Smart Growth in Kingston, Ontario.

We will be developing a contact list to communicate with targeted organizations once we have firmed up the roster.
